Beauty standard

The beauty standard is a very very negative way to tell you to be a certain weight, height, skin tone, and hair color. all very high standards that shouldn't even be standards. The beauty standard is so toxic because everybody should feel beautiful without having to compare themselves to others because of what social media and people are telling them to be. A person who is not 100 pounds should be told to lose weight because they are not reaching the "preferred weight limit". Skin tone is the worst. If you are not white you should not be called slurs because you are darker skinned.

Bath and body work

Bath and body work is a very known store

And the company's known for more than just perfume and soap. Fans love their candles too, and have made the store the #1 retailer in America for body lotion, body cream, body wash, body fragrance, hand soap, and hand sanitizer. Bath & Body Works has between 300 and 400 unique scents in their stores, brand representatives confirmed to Bustle. The number of scents the retailer carries can even reach 500 during the holiday season.

Chromebooks

The School chromebooks are liked and disliked in West Side CTC. Some people like the fact that they can do their work regardless of where they are, provided they have an internet connection, and when they are doing it. I've heard that people like the chromebooks because they now have an easier time typing than writing. Some kids like having something to play with when they're bored and have nothing to do in class.

There are quite a few people however that do not like the Chromebooks. They have reasons to not like the chromebooks, such as the responsibility. A small portion of the students at West side CTC don't even charge their chromebooks and have them dead on a daily basis. Kids will have some of their chromebooks destroyed. It doesn't have to be their fault that it's broken, and they will still have to pay for it. Regardless, the chromebooks, from what i've been told, are going to be going away in the coming year because of the covid restrictions slowly being lifted as the Pandemic slowly fades away in our school life.

Kate Spade

Tragedy of Kate Spade

Kate Spade is a very famous handbag designer. She made small clutches to large tote bags. Her designs are still popular today and her legacy lives on. Kate began her career being very artistic and needed a handbag that she could love. She began designing bags and sold them to local stores in New York. Things developed and sales exploded into what it is today. Spade's early bags sell for thousands today on the secondary market.

Kate Spade had struggled with depression for years before taking her life on June 5th 2018. She left behind a 13 year old daughter and a husband. Her millions of fans mourned. Kate Spade is the sister in law of comedian David Spade. Unfortunately Kate hung herself in her Manhattan apartment.

Her legacy lives on through her designs and drawings. She left behind ideas that are used in her products today. She has a handbag and shoe line that sells millions each year. Her crew of loyal employees take her drawings and develop items in the image of what she was all about. Her designs are modern but classic.

“How do you put someone down easy?”

Dear Valued Student,

It’s never easy to let someone down but the best way is to be upfront about it and do it as soon as possible. If you drag it out and let the person think that everything’s okay, you’ll start to feel suffocated in the relationship and when you finally tell the person, it’ll hurt even more. You should always let someone down in person, if you can’t, over the phone is good too. (Pro tip: Don’t do it over text, it just adds salt to the wound.) Tell the person why you think it won’t work out, there’s nothing worse than a flimsy excuse. (“It’s not you, it’s me!”) The longer you go without saying something, the more of a hassle it’ll be letting that person down. Honestly, there’s no easy way to let someone down, it’s always going to be painful on both ends, but again: Do it in person and be honest with the person and yourself. This is the type of problem you can’t ignore and hope it’ll go away.

Wishing you the best of luck,

Aunt Tea
